

2026 Sponsorship Opportunities

Our Mission

The Friends of Wyman Park Dell is a 501c3 volunteer run nonprofit with a mission to preserve, protect, and maintain Wyman Park Dell, an Olmsted legacy park at the intersection of Baltimore's Charles Village and Remington neighborhoods.

The Wyman Park Dell is a 16-acre public park that is a landmark in Central Baltimore. Located south of Johns Hopkins University and the Baltimore Museum of Art, it is surrounded by two neighborhoods: Charles Village to the east and south, and Remington to the west.

The Dell is noted for its steep enclosing slopes and a large, sweeping lower lawn. It is one of the few parks in Baltimore fully conceived and designed by the Olmsted Brothers, the landscape architecture firm responsible for the City's first comprehensive park system plan in 1904.

The Friends of Wyman Park Dell engage our community in the preservation, protection and promotion of this distinctive, historic Olmsted park. The FWPD, led by an all-volunteer Board of Directors, engages in the following activities:

- Organizing regular volunteer clean-ups of the Dell to maintain the existing landscaping, clear out invasive vegetation, and place more suitable plantings to improve the appearance and long-term viability.
- Advocating for major capital improvements in the Dell, such as restoration of its lower lawn and slopes, improvement to its stormwater drainage, lighting, and electrical systems, repair of its stone walls, stairs, and paths, and installation of a new playground.
- Engaging with our community through programming that offers everyone from long-time visitors to first-timers a chance to enjoy the Dell through community campouts, movie nights, festivals, concerts and more (like Goats on the Slope!).
- Preserving the Dell's historic features and design by using the Wyman Park Dell Master Plan to guide design projects that promote usage of the Dell while honoring its roots as an Olmsted Park.
- Partnering with local businesses, institutions and neighbors to ensure that the Dell continues to be a place where community members are able to unwind, relax, commune, and play in a safe and beautiful green environment.

Our Audience & Reach

Friends of Wyman Park Dell engages a network of community residents, partners, municipal leaders, local organizations, institutions, and businesses. With over 3.5K+ followers and over 4.7K+ monthly views and interactions, our social media is active and highly visible. Our email campaign list of over 5K+ community members allows for monthly engagement.

Foot traffic from the Baltimore Museum of Art and Johns Hopkins University campus, as well as daily use by Baltimore City residents, especially in the surrounding areas of Remington and Charles Village, provide an opportunity for even greater visibility and engagement.

Friends of Wyman Park Dell is an official Friends of Parks Group created in 1983 to care for our community park in a public-private partnership with Baltimore City Department of Recreation and Parks. Over 40 years later, the volunteer run nonprofit continues to focus on stimulating and promoting the interest and action of the public in the preservation, beautification, protection, and maintenance of Wyman Park Dell.

Masterplan Implementation and Update

Ongoing

Wyman Park demonstrates the premier design work of the Olmsted Brothers from 1903 to 1947. The influential landscape architecture firm was established in 1898, and in 1904 prepared a report for the development of Baltimore's public parks, including Wyman Park.

In the early 2000s, The Wyman Park Dell Masterplan Steering Committee engaged local landscape architecture firm Mahan Rykiel Associates to lead the local community in developing a Masterplan for the Dell and advance the Olmsted legacy of the park while seeking relevant solutions to modern challenges. The masterplan process was grounded in community-based planning with involvement from the surrounding community and institutions. The plan was approved in 2006 and had been partially implemented.

Following Baltimore City's closing of the 29th Street parking sweep entrance, in 2025 FWPD engaged Mahan Rykiel Associates to update the Dell's masterplan and study the southwest areas of the park with the goal of providing improved pedestrian safety, an accessible access to the park, and enhanced usability of the park by all community members. The effort led by Mahan Rykiel and the FWPD Masterplan Update Committee is in the midst of stakeholder meetings and community engagement sessions to ensure the updates proposed to the Masterplan are rooted in neighborhood consensus and connected to the historic design of the park by the Olmsted Brothers.

Friends of Wyman Park Dell engages in the above planning work and continues to implement elements of the Masterplan when able with the support of volunteers and Baltimore's philanthropic community. Please support our efforts to enhance and preserve our historic neighborhood park.
